Phishing Alert

GRC attendees have received calls and emails from representatives claiming to be affiliated with hotels in the area of GRC conference venues. These representatives are not authorized by GRC.

The representative asks for information regarding personal phone numbers and credit card information to reserve lodging. They are using the GRC logo, colors, and the email domain of (but is not limited to) @grcconferences.org. Please note that all official GRC correspondence will come from an email address ending in @grc.org.

If you are contacted by these individuals, we suggest that you do not respond, click links, or supply any personal/credit card information. If a GRC participant is attending a conference in 2024 and has registered as “on-site,” their official GRC lodging is reserved through GRC at the venue in which the conference is being held.

GRC venues reported to be impacted include (but are not limited to):

- Renaissance Tuscany Il Ciocco in Barga, Italy
- Ventura Beach Marriott in Ventura Beach, CA, USA
- Four Points Sheraton in Ventura Beach, CA, USA
- Grand Galvez in Galveston, TX, USA
- Proctor Academy in Andover, NH, USA
- Rey Don Jaime Gran Hotel in Barcelona, Spain
- Bates College in Lewiston, ME, USA
